

Golden and Blonde Ale

This is generally what we like to call the craft category for the people, for it is easy drinking and generally pretty simple to make and cost effective. However, even after saying all that, we in Alberta are really lucky to have had a massive craft brewing boom which has meant that we have golden and blond ales aplenty. Some of these are super light and balanced where as other have a little bite on the end to make it more refreshing and I have it on... "Good Authority" that the winner was exactly that. Dave Gingrich
