

CIDERS

I have a confession to make. I am a wannabe cidemaker! There is something about the sweet-tart balance in apples that appeals to me. Apple cider can make a great alternative to white wine. Like wine, there is a broad range of styles from sparkling to still, and dry to sweet, to only apples (the type of apple plays a major role too!) and those with other fruits. In Calgary, I know of cideries that organize a fruit drive each year asking for donations of unwanted fruit from backyard trees. I applaud this initiative and am always excited to taste these ciders.
